Phillip,

I hope all is well. [REDACTED] to push the company forward. I wanted to let you know that Julian has moved on to his next opportunity. I have taken over the company and turning over every stone to determine the best way forward.

I was wondering what your current position on pushing your ideas forward is and the disposition of your patents and IP. If you are open to talking with me, please drop me a note and times that would be convenient to talk.

Karl
