

CYBER PERIL: DENIAL OF SERVICE INTERRUPTION

A service interruption (or denial of service) is a cyber incident in which a critical business asset is interrupted by malicious intent. It is important to understand the probability and impact of service interruption based on the duration of such an incident.

Expected Loss (Low) (Interruption)

$3,288,166

Expected Loss (Median) (Interruption)

$8,850,493

Expected Loss (High) (Interruption)

$14,412,820

Expected Loss (Worst-Case) (Interruption)

$21,162,616

Summarized Service Interruption Probability and Impact Chart

Please use the following summarized probability and impact chart to quickly understand probability and impact ranges from a 30 minute interruption to a 48 hour service interruption.

