DETAILED ACTION

1. Claim 1 is pending.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 1 recites the limitation "the characteristics of at least one threat community" in lines 13-14. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 1 objected to because of the following informalities: the use of brackets and "e.g." within the claim make it unclear whether the examples given are a further limitation of the claim. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claim 1 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cole, US-PGPUB 2004/0221176.

As per claim 1:

Art Unit: 2132

Cole discloses a method of measuring and representing security risk, the method comprising:

- (a) selecting at least one object within an environment;
- (b) quantifying the strength of controls of at least one object within that environment by:
 - (i) quantifying authentication controls;
 - (ii) quantifying authorization controls; and
 - (iii) quantifying structural integrity (paragraphs 0033-0048);
- (c) setting global variables for the environment (paragraph 0049);
- (d) selecting at least one threat community (paragraph 0050); and
- (e) calculating information risk by:
 - (i) performing a statistical analysis, using the strengths of controls of said at least one object, the characteristics of at least one threat community, and the global variables of the environment, to compute a value representing information risk (paragraph 0050).
